

HAUNTED BY THE PREVIOUS OWNERS

BY PAUL DALE ROBERTS, HALO PARANORMAL INVESTIGATIONS

My team and I were set to arrive at for home investigation in Sacramento, California, on February 13, 2021. Priscilla Navarro, the homeowner, had bought the house two years ago and was experiencing recent paranormal activity.

Priscilla was told that the house was a former “drug house” and a previous owner had passed away there. Apparently, the previous owners had buried trash in the backyard for no apparent reason. Also, there was a safe in the closet underneath the floorboards in the closet. Priscilla had never opened the safe and just placed her own safe over the old one.

The previous owner’s children stop by the house frequently to pay respects to their mother, who had passed away at the house. The children act strange while visiting. Also, Priscilla believes there may be some negativity that originates with the safe, as arguments erupt around the area.

Priscilla’s 10-month-old daughter saw something scary at the front door and is now terrified to be in the house. Other strange happenings include Priscilla experiencing sleep paralysis, her daughter sleep crawling, and hearing loud bangs around the house.

The Investigation

Present at the investigation were myself, Deanna Jaxine Stinson, and Gina de la Rosa. When we arrived at the location at about 6 p.m., we got to work. I systematically went into each room and outside to attempt to get EVPs.

Deanna picked up on an old lady by the kitchen, and when I asked who she was and why she was at the house, we caught an EVP that said, “What for?” The voice sounded like an elderly lady. Deanna said that the old lady was complaining about a vicious dog outside. We later found out from Priscilla that the neighbor next to her has a mean Pitbull.

Later on in the investigation, we went into one of the bathrooms and a man’s voice talked over my voice and said, “I’m right here.”

Deanna picked up on a man later in the bedroom, and the man was showing her some hats that were on top of something high in the bedroom. He was excited about the hats! Priscilla later revealed that the hats were sports hats, and her father loved the 49ers and cherished those hats.

When Deanna saw the man pointing to the sports hats, I visualized a face, and when shown a picture of Priscilla’s father, that is the face that I saw in my head. Deanna was not tall enough to see that the hats were sports hats. We captured another EVP of a man talking, but we were not sure what he was saying. We captured another voice outside that sounded female, but the EVP was unintelligible.

The Cleansing

Deanna conducted a metaphysical cleansing, and I conducted a Roman Catholic cleansing at the home. The cleansing was meant to get rid of any negative entities that may be in the house, but good entities, like Priscilla’s father, were welcome to stay.

What was another factor to this case is that this home was very close proximity to St. Mary’s Cemetery. While I was in the backyard, I heard a full-on conversation from a woman, but there was no one there and I wasn’t quick enough to record it. Then later in the back room, I heard a man talking and did not record it. I heard those voices as if there was someone right next to me talking. ♦
